The Toledo Weekly Blade.

Of the now nearly twenty thousand regular publications in the United States, there are but two or three weekly newspapers published for general circulation in every state and territory, and of these the Toledo Weekly Blade is the best and most popular of them all. It is the oldest, best known, and has the largest circulation. For more than twenty-five years it has been a regular visitor to every portion of the Union, and it is well known at every one of the sixty thousand odd postoffices of the country. It is made especially for family reading. It gives the entire news of the world each week, in such condensed form as will save reading scores of pages of daily papers to get less information. Republican in politics, Temperance in principle, always on the side of justice and right, it is just the paper for the rising generation, and great educator for the whole family. Serial stories, wit and humor, short stories, Household department, Question Bureau, Farm Department, Camp Fire, Sunday School and Young Folks are a few of the many other prominent features of this great paper. A specimen copy will be mailed free to any address on application, and the publishers invite any person to send in a long list of addresses to whom they will mail sample copies. They would be glad to mail a couple of hundred specimens to readers of this county. The Weekly Blade is a very large paper, and the price is only one dollar a year.
Address THE BLADE, Toledo, Ohio.

The Black Knot.

To those who have watched the wholesale destruction caused by this fungus in many parts of the state, a word of caution will be necessary. The black knot—infesting the cherry and plum trees—seems to be largely spasmoid in its habits. In many parts of the country it has struggled along in a quiet way for years, when suddenly it has burst forth in a terrible rage that has swept every susceptible tree before it. Because of the widespread destruction in many eastern districts, the plum industry has been almost abandoned. Realizing the pending danger from the black knot our state legislature has passed laws providing for its destruction. As citizens of the state of Michigan it is our duty to do all we can to suppress this pest and thus supplement our lawmakers in enforcing the act passed for the good of the fruit grower and farmer. After the leaves have fallen is the best time to carefully look every plum and cherry tree over and cut out and burn every vestige of the black knot. Where the fungus has attacked the trunk or large limbs it can often be effectually removed by cutting out the affected parts and covering the wound with white lead. Too many of us have only partly realized the danger of letting this pest go unchecked and have cut off branches permitting them to fall on the ground, where they are likely to continue putting out infecting spores indefinitely. Contrary to the general impression the black knot gives rise to a second crop of spores during the winter, hence the necessity of destroying the branches in the fall. Every black knot gives rise to a vast number of spores and when spread broadcast in the wind they are likely to find lodgment on any susceptible tree for a long distance. Wild plum and cherry trees are often a great source of infection and should be cut and burned when infected, or else given the same care required by trees in the home orchard.

"Burn" Humorists.

One characteristic peculiar to all humorists is that they will tell you "Humorists are born, not made"; the exceptions being so rare as to be phenomenal. By the way, can any student of human nature tell why it is that so few women are professional humorists? Among a score of splendid half-tone portraits of our most noted American humorists, accompanying "Off-Hand Chats with Professional Humorists," published in Demorest's Magazine for December, not one is a woman! These "chats" are decidedly entertaining, and every one will enjoy reading them. Likewise, everyone will be interested in "The Empress Dowager of China," which is most superbly illustrated with portraits, and scenes in and about Peking. This is, indeed, a rare Christmas number. The first picture is a charming watercolor by Maud Humphreys, "Under the Mistletoe," which is unique in conception; the full-page gravure, "Madonna and Child," by a modern artist, is a gem; and there are over two hundred illustrations besides these. "Christmas Chimes," an illustrated poem, "Always With Us," an account of Christmas charities in New York, "Boy Choirs," "The Common Sense of Christmas Gifts," "Lullaby, the Frost Queen," a Christmas story for children, "His Christmas Gift," "Holiday Work for Busy Fingers," and "Some Christmas Menus" furnish Christmas cheer and suggestions galore for everybody. Then there are other charming stories, and every one of the numerous departments is full to overflowing with good things. Either letterpress or illustration, independent of the other, is more than worth the price of the magazine, which is only 20 cents. The subscription price is $2 a year. Published by W. Jennings Demorest, 15 East 14th St., New York.

Echoes From the Castle of Knowledge.

William Mann, Editor.

The Young People's Literary Society met in regular session on Tuesday evening. Owing to the fact that William Mann was to take part in the debate, Lulu High was requested to act as President and accordingly called the meeting to order. After a short time had been spent in the study of school law the meeting was given into the hands of the president who announced that the program consisted of a debate on the question: Resolved, That the United States would be justified in interfering in the Chinese-Japanese war. The following judges were chosen by the president: Ed. Andrae, Will Harris, Marcia Beecher, Lulu Mitchell, Maggie Black and E. S. Black. The debate was then opened with a stirring speech by Jas. Wesley Cavanagh, leader of the affirmative. When the hearty applause had ceased Charles Howard Palmer in a masterly way presented the negative side of the question. After seven other lively arguments had been delivered, each of which were very creditable and showed that the young people had studied the subject, the judges retired to the recitation room.

A short business meeting was then held and the time of meeting changed from 7:00 to 7:30.

Upon return of the judges the decision was given in favor of the negative. It is to be hoped that Sec. Gresham accepts the decision here given and concludes to have the United States attend to her own affairs.

At the next meeting the society will be divided into two bodies and proceed to elect members to Congress after the manner of the State Legislature. This will no doubt be a very instructive meeting.

Teachers' Association.

There will be an educational rally at Port Huron Friday evening, December 21st, followed next day by a regular meeting of The St. Clair County Teachers' Association. An unusually fine program is being arranged for the occasion. One or two prominent educators from abroad are expected to speak on pertinent topics. We hope to have these meetings eclipse anything of the kind yet held in the county. It can be done if the teachers only will it. Let every teacher have enough of the professional spirit to be present. School officers are cordially invited and everyone interested in educational work.

Thanksgiving Services.

Thanksgiving Day was observed by union services in the M. P. church. The attendance, considering the number of professed Christians who ought to be willing to express their gratitude and thankfulness for the mercies received during the past year, was very small, but those present enjoyed a good, practical discourse by Rev. J. H. Harrison.

The scripture lesson was read from the 16th chapter of 1st Chronicles 8-34 verses. The text is found in Ephesians 5th chapter and 20th verse,—"Giving thanks always unto God and the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ."

The Rev. gentleman made some strong points when speaking of municipal and national sins, and condemned in unmeasured terms the iniquity of our government in joining hands with the forces of evil. And for money, license the saloon monster to invade and spoil the homes of our fair land. And cited the facts of history to prove that nations as well as individuals cannot set at defiance the laws of God, and sin with impunity, and also quoted from God's Holy Word that only a righteous nation God will exalt, and that every nation that will not serve Him shall end in destruction.

Musie was furnished by members of the different choirs, Lillian Cooper presiding at the organ.
